I SEEM TO HAVE BEEN ELECTED MEMBER OF THE ANANIAS CLUB

Former U. S. Ambassador to Austria-Hungary Replies Pertinaciously to Roosevelt's Letter.

OBEYED INSTRUCTIONS HE SAID

Says Archbishop Ireland Told Him President Took Credit For Action Now Repudiated.

[By Associated Press.]
CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 10.—Belamy Storer, former United States ambassador to Austria-Hungary, replied briefly to the statement contained in President Roosevelt's letter to Secretary of State Root, which was given to the press last night insisting on the position he had heretofore taken and reiterated the statement made by him in a statement to the members of the foreign relations committee of Congress made public last week.

Storer today said: "I seem to have been elected a member of the Ananias Club, like all others who come into dispute with Roosevelt. I am now to be classed with Senators Chandler, Tillman, Bailey and others who have questioned some act or word of the President."

Storer added he has four letters bearing on the controversy as to the promotion of Archbishop Ireland, all of which he claims will bear out his contention that "I obeyed explicit instructions of Roosevelt in acting as I did with regard to the promotion." Continuing Storer said: "Archbishop Ireland told me also that the President on several occasions in conversation with him, took credit for the action he now repudiates."

FORESTS MUST BE PROTECTED

Against Fire and Ruthless Destruction—Matter Is Up to the Coming Legislature.

If the West Virginia legislature passes a forestry law this winter there are a few essential things which should be included and several artistic frills that can be disposed with. Forestry laws differ in the different states. Some spend large sums in experimental tree culture, using specialists at high salaries. This work contributes more to science in general than to the state's benefit in particular, and is not absolutely necessary to this state.

West Virginia needs one thing above all others to preserve its forests. That one thing is protection against fire. It is a difficult thing to reach. In fact it is impossible to prevent fires in the woods as to prevent them in cities; but measures can be taken to lessen the evil by making it as unlawful for a man to set a forest fire on his own land as to set fire to his own house.

Such a law strictly enforced would cut out half the forest fires at one stroke.

ITALIAN FINED FOR CARRYING WEAPON

Minardo Brothers Compromise With Rosario Romano For Breaking Up Store Front.

Vincent and John Minardo, the Italian brothers who smashed the front of Rosario Romano's fruit store in Glen Elk with coconuts in endeavor to hit Romano, compromised with Romano Saturday evening in Magistrate Gordon's court and the complaint charging the brothers with malicious destruction of property was withdrawn and the warrant dismissed. The brothers paid for the store front that was demolished, including the plate glass window and Romano paid the costs.

Vincent Minardo confessed to having unlawfully carried a razor, which was found on him when arrested, and was fined $25 and costs which he paid. A similar warrant against John charging him with carrying a gun and a pair of steel knuckles was dismissed.

MEXICAN TRIP A FINE ONE.

As Described in a Very Vivid Manner By Mr. Gladden, Who Is On the Trip.

[By A. P. Gladden.]
MESA CORREO, Chihuahua, Mexico, Dec. 10.—Our party left Chihuahua on the Chihuahua El Pacifico railroad, which is the only railroad that met schedule time since we left Pittsburg, Pa. We have just passed through the most interesting country on our trip. The most of the country consists of level lands, well watered, and abounding in the greatest number of stock herds and the largest seen on our trip, game galore with deer grazing in recognizable distance of the train. We saw six deer at different points within thirty minutes and jack rabbits and duck by the thousand.

We passed through the noted ranch of Carlos Zuoluago, which contains sixty square miles of the most beautiful plateau of land I ever saw, all of which is enclosed. He works nearly six hundred families. We passed in close view of a $250,000 chapel, which he built. There are many costly chapels built in this country at his own cost, for the benefit of his family and employees. There are many costly chapels built in this country by the ranch owners. Zuoluago was a regular fire brigade to fight prairie fires. His immense herds are fine lookers—well bred stock. We were in plain view of a herd of 8,000 cattle, which were being rounded up and culled, preparatory to shipment. Also we saw a round up of 6,000 sheep for the same purpose.

The railroad mile and whistle posts all have a cross painted on them, which is done to keep the natives from stealing them for wood. They never steal anything with a cross on it.

Distances in Mexico are read in kilometers, not miles. We passed the "Divide." The station at the dividing line is called Mal-Paso, translated "Bad-Pass," the latter being the name in the Indian days. We reached the terminus of our railroad, accommodations at a station named Temocaco, where we shared the hospitality of hotel Mow-How, where we bunked in a freight shed with verticle cracks open in an altitude of 7,100 feet and plenty of snow. We then took our first passage on board the stage, drove 52 miles over beautiful mountain scenery—truly a treat to those of us who have love of the beautiful in our lives.

A. D. Bassell won the belt on crack shots from the stage. He first shot a duck in Temocaco at long range, also two large Mexican hawks. We passed two of the famous Green's silver mines. This company has many large paying mines in this Republic. Mexico is truly a country of great possibilities in the mining business.

The first day out by stage we reached an altitude of 9,500 feet and the next day 14,000 feet elevation. It was our last day of stage transportation.

Notwithstanding the severe weather and the high altitude our party is quite well. A. D. Bassell contracted a severe cold in Pittsburg, Pa., but there are two physicians in our crowd, who had him breathing naturally in a little while.

high schools at Clarksburg, Grafton, Mannington and Fairmont, and in addition Broadus Institute, should constitute the charter members of the league, and that other schools which may wish to come in shall conform to the requirements of the constitution and by-laws which are to be drafted and adopted, and signed by the different members of the league. The constitution for the government of the league was gone over in detail, and will be put in written form very soon for the final approval of the league members.

Just before adjournment the committee elected officers for the league as follows:

President, T. J. Humphrey, of the Fairmont High school.

Vice President, I. E. Ash, of the Clarksburg High school.

Secretary-Treasurer, W. C. Gist, of the Grafton High school.

The committee adjourned to meet at Mannington in February at the time of the next meeting of the Monongahela Valley Round Table when the work will be entirely completed.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT MOUNTING A STEAM SHOVEL AND HIS TRAIN ENTERING CULEBRA CUT.

During his stay in the Panama canal zone President Roosevelt made himself popular with the workmen by mounting to the engineer's seat on one of the huge steam shovels and operating the machine, which in three bites ate a car with earth. The president watched this interesting operation closely and talked with the men about the work. Mr. Roosevelt also rode through the famous Culebra cut, the deepest part of the canal, over temporary tracks partly covered by water. By making this trip on a slow train he was able to observe much of the work in progress.

JAILED FOR ROBBING MAN

Frank Thomas, Colored, Accused of Taking Sick Western Man's Watch and Chain at Hotel.

Frank Thomas, colored, is in jail awaiting a hearing before Magistrate Gordon on the charge of having robbed Phillip Lawrence, an aged man of Weston, of a gold watch valued at $18 and a gold watch chain, valued at $6.50 in the Fuel City hotel, Glen Elk, a short time ago.

Thomas was arrested at the Waldo hotel corner on Pike street Saturday night and taken to the jail. The warrant against him was issued by Magistrate Gordon some time ago and officers have been looking for him. According to the story told the policeman, Mr. Lawrence was carried into the hotel on a cot after having just been discharged from a local hospital where he underwent a serious surgical operation. While his attendant left the room he was in, it is claimed, Thomas, who was one of those who helped to carry the patient into the house, took the watch and chain from him.
